Coopers Cottage is an immaculately presented conversion of an old stable building within the grounds of historic Frogmore House in the heart of the village of Tregony, "the gateway to the Roseland". Exposed beams, oak floors and a fully fitted modern kitchen make Coopers Cottage a very comfortable and appealing place to stay. Art features strongly here with one of the owners a prominent local artist who also provides courses in her studio next door.

Coopers is the ideal place to relax and unwind. Peaceful, spacious, light and well equipped, the property also has the benefit of a superb patio deck with views over the upper reaches of the valley. It is the perfect place to sit with a good book and enjoy the evening sun.

Tregony is the perfect place to base your holiday because so many attractions are so easily accessible. The Eden Project, the Lost Gardens of Heligan, Trelissick Gardens, St Mawes and the Cathedral City of Truro are all within a 12 mile radius of the village. The north coast beaches around Newquay or St Agnes are only a little further although there are sandy beaches within 4 miles of the property. Within Tregony itself, there is a good local shop and pub a few minutes walk away.

Accommodation

Ground Floor only: Open plan lounge, dining area and fully fitted kitchen with a granite topped breakfast bar. The main bedroom has a double bed and a further single bed. There is an additional twin bedroom and good sized "wet" shower room.

Facilities & Services

The cottage is centrally heated throughout. The kitchen is fully equipped with an electric hob, oven, fridge and separate freezer, microwave, dishwasher & washing machine. There is a log burner and TV & DVD player in the lounge area and BBQ facilities in the garden. There is 1 dedicated car space in the parking area.

Miscellaneous

Bed linen & all electricity & heating is included but you must bring your own towels. There is no phone at Coopers Cottage and mobile reception can be difficult on some networks. No smoking is permitted. Regrettably no pets are allowed.
