Messack View is a very comfortable 3 bed holiday home in the little village of St Just in Roseland, about 2 miles north of the harbour village of St Mawes. A relatively modern house, Messack View has 3 very comfortable and good sized bedrooms and has the benefit of a private patio area which is great for the evening sun. There are views down to St Just creek and across the Carrick Roads from the main bedroom.

St Just In Roseland is a charming little hamlet on the Roseland Peninsula. Famous for its picturesque 13th century church set on the waters edge in a magnificent sub-tropical garden with an amazing variety of shrubs and trees. The churchyard path leads down to the beautiful creek where Heron, Oystercatchers and other birds are a familiar sight. The activities of the local boatyard can also be enjoyed from the creek and arrangements can be made for launching, mooring and storage of boats. The coastal footpath continues around the headland through some magnificent National Trust Land to St Mawes (approximately 2 miles).

Accommodation

Ground Floor: Main lounge and dining room with french windows onto the patio. There is a fully fitted modern kitchen, hallway and shower room. To the rear is a dedicated utility room.
