

Wild Acres Cottage

Location: Lizard Peninsula

Accommodates: 10

Tregothnan Wild Escapes are properties in unique locations around Cornwall. All properties have been recently refurbished and offer the perfect escapes from everyday life! Wild Escapes are often in remote locations and although superbly presented, do not offer a wealth of facilities, so please do not washing machines, dishwashers etc and access to properties might be on gravel roads which might be uneven. What you can expect is a peaceful holiday in superb surroundings (which maybe a little wild) where you can relax and experience the best of Cornwall.

Hidden away on a remote tract of the Lizard Peninsula overlooking Kennack Sands, Wild Acres is a unique five bedroom detached property, located just 100 yards from the beach and with splendid 180 degree sea views. The property has been recently refurbished inside by the Owners, the Tregothnan Estate and now offers a taste of luxury, whilst being positioned along some of the wildest coastline in Cornwall!

Wild Acres is one of those places in Cornwall you just dream about finding! It will take you time to get there, as it is close to the most southerly point in Britain. It is a 10 minute drive from the nearest village, positioned high above the stunning bay and is surrounded by wild heathland. The rambling and exotically wild garden is great for children to discover, with private gated access to the South West Coastal Path. The golden Kennack sands with their light surf and clear rock pools are a great playground for young & old.
